We hear you

I've heard that the Campbell Police Department is thinking of using a room at Campbell Junior High School this July 4th to process youths arrested for being under the influence of alcohol at the celebration at the park. I also understand they plan a crackdown and tougher enforcement this year. Is this true? Over the years I've heard nothing but good comments about Campbell police officers on July 4th. I think it would be a mistake to take a hard nosed stand and ruin what has been a relaxed, enjoyable day for thousands of Campbell people.

CONCERNED

Editor's note: According to Captain John Butler of the Campbell Police Department, the idea of using the school as a processing center was discussed but rejected. The department does however, plan a crackdown on offenders. "We tried to play it low key last year," Butler explained, "but we can't let it (drinking by minors and drug use) go on." More men will be assigned to the park this July 4th and juveniles who break the law such as being under the influence or in possession of alcohol, will be taken into custody. "We may issue citations and then contact the parents," Butler explained. Last year officers tried taking alcohol away from those under age or asking them to leave the park. That approach didn't work, the captain said. He added that police intend to strictly enforce the ban on animals at the park too. "So tell people not to bring their dogs," Butler concluded.

Attention Campbell City Council and all who want to spend the taxpayers money. How can you possibly spend $125,000 for 10 islands on the loop streets? Surely, proposition 13 has taught all of you people we don't want to waste our money. We recently did our front yard, 900 square feet, in dichondra. The whole thing, including seed, super soil and peat moss, cost us $78. I'd be glad to go down and plant those islands and I'd do it for a little over cost.

A state winner two times over is Samantha Ann Steiner, 8, of Campbell. She won the state USTA (United States Twirling Association) primary grand championship in strutting and dance twirling recently in Stockton. The local youngster, daughter of Raymond and Jan Steiner, 1170 Paula dr., will perform some of her winning routines at the annual July 4th celebration at John D. Morgan Park. Her mother will be teaching tot Baton Twirling class for Campbell Community Services this summer. The class, open to 6 to 14 year olds, begins June 29 at Campbell jr. high.

No fireworks this July 4th

THE AERIAL fireworks display, part of Campbell's fourth of July celebration for the past four years, has been cancelled by city councilmen for this year. The day long event, sans fireworks, will go on as planned.

Monday night local officials took up the question of whether to continue the community get together in light of recent budget cuts. Total cost for the event is $5,600 with $1,750 of that for the aerial display which has attracted more than 40,000 people to John D. Morgan Park in recent years.

The bulk of the July 4th budget has already been funded for this year but the estimated $2,200 in costs for employee overtime has to come from 1978-79 funds.

City Manager Bob Stephens brought up the possibility of cancelling the event in the wake of Proposition 13. "It's more of a symbol," Stephens explained.

NOTING THAT the Fourth of July Committee has already been working for months on this year's event. Councilman Rusty Hammer moved to cancel the fireworks and apply those savings to overtime costs. The vote was 4-1 with Councilman Bill Podgorsek opposed.

The city will save about $1,375 by the cutback. A cancellation clause in the city's contract with the fireworks company gives them $375.

It's that sinking feeling

Things went completely backwards for Donald Olin of Campbell Saturday, — literally.

Olin, 1645 Westmont ave., was fishing in San Francisco bay with a friend, Donald Welch of South San Francisco, when the transmission of their small boat became stuck in reverse, according to Olin's daughter, Tracy.

As a result, the boat started moving in backward circles, water started seeping in from the stern and the boat eventually capsized.

The 44-year-old local man and his companion were rescued by Coast Guard helicopter.

Fortunately, everything turned out all right, according to Tracy. The boat was towed in and uprighted, and sustained no damage except for a cracked windshield.

Neither Olin or his friend were injured in the mishap — "just scared," in Tracy's words.

The incident took place near Oyster Point, east of South San Francisco.

Program cuts eyed

No city staff layoffs

By PAT SAFFORD

THE STATE of the city isn't as bleak as pre proposition 13 predictions but cutbacks are being eyed in such areas as street sweeping, community services and street lighting.

The first of three public hearings on the revised budget will be held this Monday, June 19 at 8 p.m. in the Campbell Council Chamber, 75 N. Central ave. Additional sessions will be held June 20 and 21 at 7:30 p.m.

Police and fire services can be maintained at present levels, City Manager Bob Stephens reports, and no existing full time city staffers will have to be laid off. Originally the city said Proposition 13 could mean giving the axe to 30 to 35 full-time employees.

Stephens' budget cutting proposal does include the Youth Employment Service, teen activities, $12,000 to the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, Kids to Camp, and all special events in the city of next year including the Fourth of July celebration, Easter Egg Hunt and Halloween contest.

ONE REASON for the turnaround in pre-Jarvis Gann financial figures is a jump of $200,000 in surplus city funds since the May 30 preliminary budget. Originally $475,000 was listed as the general fund surplus as of June 30. That figure was revised last week to $675,000. In addition, increases are expected over earlier estimates for income from sales and use taxes, building fees and other income.

The "Proposition 13" budget released Monday in bright, red binders shows a decrease of $593,810 in the preliminary operating budget since May 30.

A total of $242,384 was saved by denying requests for new personnel, cutting out four funded but unfilled positions in the public works department and cutting overtime and temporary personnel. Cuts in materials and services lopped off another $146,215 and capital outlay requests of $89,770 were also axed.

The future of such community service programs as Kiddie Camp will depend on enrollment, Coordinator Barbara Harison said. Those children's programs will have to be self-supporting to be funded this year. Minimum enrollment is 15 per session. Adult programs face the same requirement.

The proposed $7.9 million operating budget includes $250,000 in reserves with $100,000 of that earmarked for capital outlay. Federal revenue sharing funds of $330,195 would be used to help offset the budget deficit.

AND THAT deficit could climb $150,000 higher if the county doesn't come through on funding for the communications system as agreed to earlier. Right now that agreement, which includes several larger cities which also operate their own communications services, is tied up by a dispute between Santa Clara and the county over the sales tax agreement.

Among cuts recommended by Stephens are cancelling all travel, conference and out of the area meeting expenses for staff, councilmen and commissioners ($28,185), membership, dues and publications for all three ($6,970), staff development costs for education ($13,155) and the annual dinner meetings of the Civic Improvement Commission ($125) and Planning Commission ($400).

ALSO CUT would be $1,000 in promotional expense for the fire department which covers the Baby Sitters Seminar, Junior Fire Marshall Program and the explorer post, $175 for a bullet proof vest for the police department, $7,500 for a fire alarm system for City Hall, $23,000 for remodeling the downstairs restroom in City Hall, $15,000 for a used backhoe arm and $60 for an electric pencil sharpener for the purchasing department.

A big concern is with the Campbell Lighting District which will come up with a deficit at the end of the year, even with a $50,000 reserve balance at the beginning.

According to Stephens, the council will have the option of making up the difference out of other funding or of a cutback in service which would mean every other street light would be turned off.

Campbell's Wayne Gray won the state community college decathlon title last week in Bakersfield, topping all comers in the 10 grueling events. For the story of the 20-year-old West Valley College student, a 1976 graduate of Campbell high, see page 11 of today's PRESS.

Citizens petition council

Loop street speed limit goes back to 25 MPH . . . radar enforcement in doubt

THE SPEED LIMIT on the loop streets will remain 25 MPH, Campbell officials decided Monday night on a split vote.

Orchard City and Civic Center drive (the loop streets) were slated to be raised to 30 MPH to comply with the latest engineering studies and to, hopefully, allow speeding citations issued by the use of radar to be upheld when they are challanged in court. At present, they are routinely dismissed.

City officials received petitions signed by 329 residents Monday night calling for the existing 25 MPH speed limit to be maintained and enforced, and that "design deficiencies" of the loop streets be corrected.

The original vote to up the speed limit on those streets passed by a 3-2 vote and the turnabout had the same margin this week with Councilman Rusty Hammer the swing vote. Councilmen Ralph Doetsch and Bill Podgorsek also favored the 25 MPH zone.

WITH THAT VOTE the Campbell Police Department can still issue citations along those streets but must clock speeds rather than use radar to make them stand up in court. Police Chief Don Burr told councilmen Monday he does not have enough men or cars to monitor the area without radar.

In maintaining that lower speed limit on the loop streets the council went against the strong recommendations of both the police and public works departments.

"We're not saying the speeds should be faster," Keith Manley, assistant civil engineer told officials. "We're saying that's whats there and therefore an enforceable speed." Traffic studies have set the critical speed at between 35 and 37 MPH, which is the speed traveled by the 85th percentile of motorists. This is the state mandated gauge used in setting speed limits which can be enforced by radar.

"WE HAVE SOME serious enforcement problems (on the loop streets)," Manley explained. "From an engineering standpoint we feel that the speed limit should say what it means and mean what it says." He added that one of the primary objectives of building the loop streets was to reduce the accident rate. "And we have substantially reduced those rates," Manley added.

Warren Schusler, 63 N. Second st., was one of several residents of the area who appeared before the council Monday.

"I carried a petition on a a couple of blocks," Schusler said, "and I had it almost torn from my hands by people who were so angry they wanted to sign it . . . forcefully!" He argued that raising the speed limit would encourage even greater speeds and told officials his picket fence has been struck twice by errant cars since the streets opened.

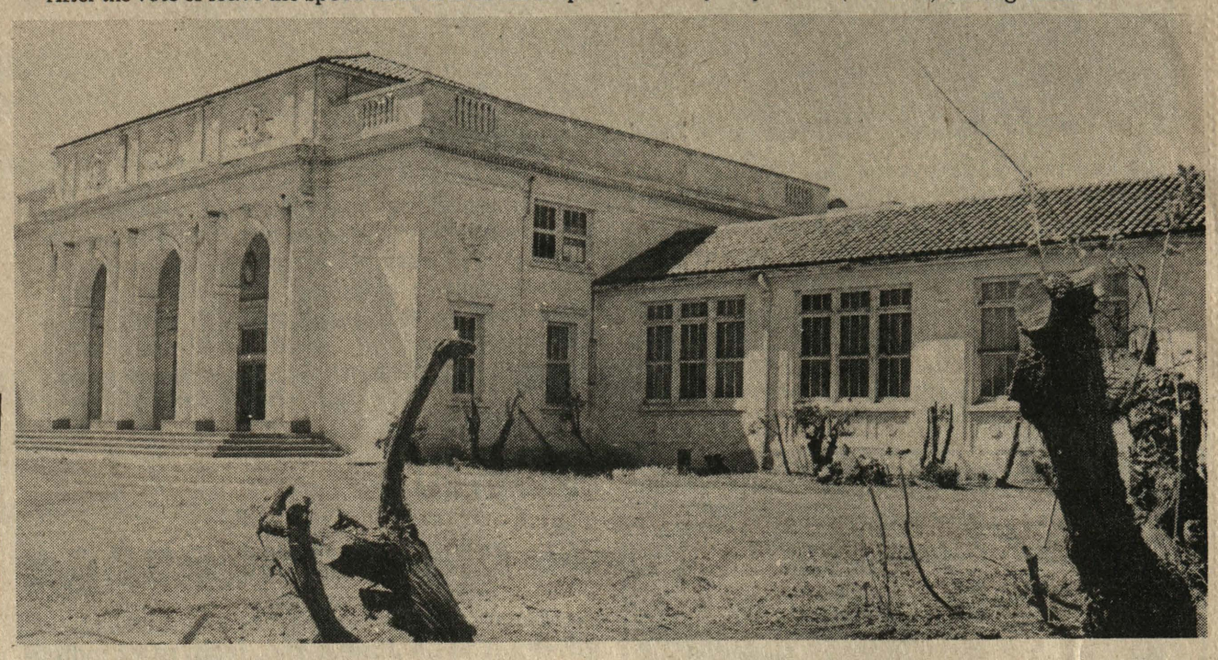
Schusler described the "design deficiences" as conditions of the street which forces cross traffic to pull out into the street, and possibly into oncoming traffic, to get a clear view. He cited several accidents which were alledgedly caused by this condition.

MAYOR DEAN CHAMBERLIN, who voted against the down zoning, told the audience he was throughly in sympathy but that the city was "caught between the urging of the people and the bare facts of the case (the state requirements)."

After the vote of leave the speed limit as is on the loops Councilman Hammer called for a report from the public works department "at the earliest possible convience" on the design deficiencies discussed and on any other possible traffic control measures.

The bulk of the speed zoning changes, which were adopted Monday night, were done without comment.

New posted speed limit signs will be going up on Campbell avenue, from Foote to Bascom (35 MPH) Hacienda avenue, from San Tomas Aquino to Dell (30 MPH) and on old Camden ave. from Dell ave. to the southerly city limits (25 MPH) among others.



IN RECENT months the old Campbell grammar school has taken on a bleak appearance with windows boarded up and peeling paint and plaster. Last week that impression was even more stark with the lion's share of trees and shrubs cut back to the stumps. The severe pruning was done, Campbell school district officials reported, to help control repeated entry by vandals who have left the interior in a shambles. The youths routinely used the dense shrubbery to shield their point of entry. School officials, concerned with possible liability if youngsters were injured, ordered the two days of trimming last Wednesday. (Photography by Ed Souza)

Total sales top $200 million

Nearly $233 million worth of taxable items were sold by Campbell merchants during 1977, according to data released by the State Board of Equalization.

Retail stores accounted for just over $175 million of the local total of $232,836,000, which compares to $78,526,000 for Milpitas, $137,073,000 for Los Gatos and $221,103,000 for Santa Cruz, cities similar in size.

Home furnishing and appliance dealers accounted for $39 million in taxable sales, followed by eating and drinking establishments ($27 million), building material and farm implement concerns ($19 million), service stations ($17 million) and general merchandise stores ($13 million).

Totals for the state increased to almost $99.5 billion during the year, an 11.6 percent jump compared to 8 percent during 1976.

Training funds okayed

Paramedics win tentative endorsement of council

CAMPBELL CITY councilmen unanimously indicated their support for continuing the paramedic program Tuesday morning but made it clear they might have to take another look next week during budget hearings.

Shortly after 1 a.m. Tuesday councilmen voted to approve sending three fire fighters to Los Angeles later this month to begin paramedic training at a cost of $18,000.

That training cost isn't the problem, however. The question is if the city should keep things as they are, drop the paramedics to staff a third fire station or try to swing both. With budget cuts from the rollback in property taxes, the third alternative may be out of the economic reach of the city for now.

The Monday night city council meeting had droned on past midnight when the issue was raised.

"THE MEN WANT to know if we are going to continue the paramedic program," said Willis Thompson, representing Fire Fighters, local 1939. He explained that six paramedics are now providing the service when nine are needed, which results in more overtime and double shifts for the specially trained fire fighters.

"They're exhausted," Thompson declared.

The revised city budget provides enough funds to continue the program with nine paramedics, not counting the $18,000 in training costs. But no provision is made for staffing the third engine company authorized by the City Council early this year.

"I would submit that the third engine company is our number one priority," City Manager Bob Stephens told councilmen.

Battalion Chief Tony Pini outlined four alternatives and the cost to the city for each.

Keeping two stations and eliminating paramedics would save Campbell $82,237, Pini said, for a total fire service cost of $1,139,773.

THE SECOND alternative, keeping two stations and the paramedics, has a price tag of $1,221,970 in the 1978-79 budget.

Adding a third engine company and dropping paramedics would cost $1,355,678 yearly, he said, while three stations and paramedics would total $1,580,335.

Pini recommended that the city proceed with the third fire station, to be housed temporarily at the Cambrian Fire Station, and also maintain paramedic service.

The city originally planned to construct that east side station on property on Michael drive and later construct a third station to replace the Central ave. facility on Victor avenue on the west side.

Another alternative suggestion broached by City Manager Stephens was to continue paramedic service but have it handled by a private company on a fee basis, rather than by the city.

Fire fighter-paramedic Garry Salmon came to the microphone with one suggestion on how the city could staff three stations and paramedic service without adding the 10 new fire fighters at an estimated cost of $26,720 each in total compensation plus other costs for a total of $286,865.

SALMON SUGGESTED that 30 men, including paramedics, could staff the three stations with three per station in two areas and four manning the third station. The third station would include two paramedics and the rescue truck.

He also suggested the city might be able to recover part of the paramedic cost by trading in the rescue truck for a transport vehicle to take serious medical emergencies directly to the hospital. A fee of $50 per run could be made, Salmon said.

"Last year we had 1,800 calls," he explained, "with 600 of these paramedic level. At $50 per (transport) that would be $30,000." Right now one paramedic accompanies patients in the ambulance to the hospital in serious cases anyway, he added.

In voting approval for the $18,000 in training fees, councilmen made it clear that decision was tentative.

A final decision on fire service funding for next year is expected next week during budget hearings.

Schools wait for word

There is a yes, a no, and a maybe on the issue of closing down summer school in Campbell area schools.

In the wake of passage of Proposition 13, state superintendent Wilson Riles has called upon districts to cancel the summer program this year.

Superintendent Dick Davis planned to recommend that action to school trustees Tuesday night.

In the Campbell High School District, trustees earlier ruled against the closing. Tuesday night Superintendent Nicholas Montesano planned to ask trustees to delay the opening of summer school until final word on state funding is received.

"We hope to know by the end of this month," Montesano said. For those seniors who are short one or two classes of meeting their graduation requirements, Montesano suggested they enroll with a junior college summer program to make sure they get their credits.

Campbell elementary district officials have adopted a wait and see attitude on summer school as with announcements of the impact of Proposition 13 on the district.

The state board of education was scheduled to meet this Wednesday and Thursday and additional state funding of schools, through an allocation of surplus funds, is in the works but has not been spelled out yet.

Martha delivers

Boa population soars

HOW MANY COUPLES do you know that have had 25 babies at once?

That's what happened at the Dolphin Pet Shop, 1808 W. Campbell ave., last Tuesday when John and Martha, the resident boa constrictors, became the parents of 25 baby snakes.

Boa constrictors seldom reproduce in captivity, which was why pet store operator Branda Albrecht was shocked when she saw the drama unfolding.

"I was really surprised," she admits. "Martha was pregnant last year but when conditions aren't perfect, the snake reabsorbs the babies, and that's what happened."

Albrecht estimates the litter might have contained 40 live babies had conditions been perfect.

THE MOTHER HAD been sluggish and hadn't eaten before the births, but became much more active afterward, feasting on a rat and the guinea pig within four days of the births.

Because of the rarity of boas born in captivity, Albrecht says there's been no problem finding homes for the babies. "A lot of people want to start their own little colonies," she observes.

The event, according to Albrecht, "has really been a joy. So many people that are genuinely interested in reptiles have been coming in. There's been tons of interest and we've gotten a lot of phone calls."

Even a few crank calls have been received by Albrecht and her husband Bert, who runs the store with her. "One lady called up and said she thought it was terrible that we'd publicize a creature that squeezes children to death."

BOTH PARENTS AND children are doing fine, says Albrecht. "The babies are great — one's a little sketchy but all the others are really active. We'll try to feed them in a week or so."

And the mother has regained the appetite that had deserted her throughout her pregnancy, in addition to becoming a bit more frisky. As for the father, he had never lost his appetite and was as protective of the babies as he had been of the mother earlier.

It's summer vacation for thousands of local students and, for some, the break in studies will be longer than they expected. Moreland school trustees were scheduled to act on a recommendation that summer school be cancelled for 1,200 youngsters Tuesday night in response to a request by state superintendent Wilson Riles. Campbell high school trustees were also going to take up the question again Tuesday night. At an earlier meeting they decided against the summer school cutback but that was before Riles' request. Campbell elementary trustees have adopted a "wait and see" approach to the question until after state officials iron out what additional state funding will be available to local districts.

probably be arrested. Yet the Winchester drive-in can turn the volume on so high that, although you're in a house that is completely closed and at least 30 to 50 yards away, you can hear every word that is being said. My question is: Why can a business get away with this when an individual can't? I have been told the police can't do anything but someone told me when the theater was put in there was a big fuss and there was some condition put in about noise. Is that true?

SLEEPY AT 11 P.M.

First; according to Bruce Powell, senior planner, the use permits issued to Syufy Theaters for the drive in do not carry any conditions regarding noise. That use permit was issued many years ago before the city's noise element to the general plan was adopted. Captain John Butler of the Campbell Police Department said the problem comes from people leaving the theater with their speakers left on. In the past police have had an agreement with the theater owners that an employee will go around periodically and turn off any offending speakers. Butler says he will have someone contact the owners and tell them the city is receiving complaints and reemphasize the past agreement.

Thank you very much for the wonderful story and picture of our Sarah Becker (PRESS, May 25). Sarah died just four days after her 103rd birthday. Thank you again.

I just called in to say I don't believe the city should issue any such thing as permits for taking dogs to the park. Pet owners are usually a selfish breed who see nothing wrong with their dogs intruding on and disturbing other people (He's so friendly, you know."). These same people wouldn't think of allowing their child to walk through someone's picnic lunch, relieve themself on the lawn or bite someone if they are "ineptly" approached. I've had too many family outings disturbed by pesky dogs watched by their owners who think they're "cute." At the beaches at Santa Cruz I've seen some "no dogs allowed" signs but that doesn't stop people from letting their dogs run loose. If Campbell has enough sense to enforce their laws I say more power to them.

OPPOSED TO PERMITS

I heartily endorse the idea of "dog walking permits." I don't own a dog presently but I do feel dogs on leashes should be allowed. It's not the responsible pet owners that cause problems in parks, it's those who have no regard for others. If permits were issued, it would allow the city to control who could and couldn't visit the park with their pet. And if there was a problem with a particular dog the permit could be suspended or taken away.

ONE WOMAN'S OPINION

If I remember right, it was the dogs on leashes with their owners who bit children at Morgan Park, not the strays. I don't see how a permit for walking dogs would do anything about that. I feel animals don't belong in the park anyway. What are the owners going to do, carry a "clean up the mess" kit around with them?

NO ON DOGS IN THE PARK

Here's an item I saw in Modern Maturity (June-July 1977). "A museum visitor spotted a picture of a group of men sitting around a table. All wore long hair, stretch pants, boots and fancy jackets. Hippies? No — they were signing the Declaration of Independence."

Nondiscriminatory policy in admissions and operations

Editorial

A clear message

Voters gave a clear, direct message to government on June 6 and, from most indications, local officials receive that strong missive.

But it isn't enough to assume people are just saying they won't fund taxing agencies in the style to which government has become accustomed.

Or that voters are saying property taxes have soared way beyond the point of reason and reasonableness.

We feel people were also saying they are willing to get by with less. Less spending, less programs and less service.

Those agencies which are now waiting to find out if the state is going to make up the difference aren't getting the message.

Campbell election tally

Strong support for 13 locally

CAMPBELL VOTERS matched statewide polling June 6 by giving Proposition 13 almost a two to one margin and turning down the legislature's property tax reduction proposal, Proposition 8.

They also gave almost a five to one margin locally to City Councilman Rusty Hammer, running against Los Altos resident Jack Truher, for the democratic nomination in the 22nd state assembly district. The final tally in that race gave Hammer close to a two to one margin over Truher.

County Supervisor Rod Diridon also won easily over challenger Ralph Mehrkens, the former district 4 representative.

JUST ONE of the 27 precincts in Campbell failed to pass Proposition 13 (the Jarvis-Gann initiative). Voters at 999 W. Hamilton ave. turned down the measure by a vote of 70 to 59.

Opponents of the property tax reduction measure had hoped to get strong support from apartment house dwellers but locally that support didn't carry the day. Proposition 13 was close at the 350 Budd ave. apartments with 109 in favor and 99 opposed. At the 295 Union ave. apartments however, voters followed the state trend with 189 in favor and 120 opposed.

FOURTH GENERATION GRADUATES

Attending commencement exercises at Campbell High School has become a tradition in the Eddlemon family.

Tuesday evening when 18-year-old Julie Eddlemon was graduated her family in attendance included six alumni of the school, including two grandparents, her parents and two brothers.

Actually the Campbell alumnae line goes further back to her great grandmother, the late Atta Mae McKenzie who was graduated in 1906.

Three of her four grandparents were also Campbell graduates including Russell Templeton, Warren Eddlemon and his wife, the late Katherine Eddlemon — all class of '26.

Julie's parents, Ruth and Ron Eddlemon met while attending Campbell high and donned the cap and gown in 1953.

And finally, her two older brothers Steve and Ron were members of the class of '75 and '76 respectively.

Big leap in building permits

Only 55 permits for single-family developments were issued in Campbell for the first five months of this year, compared to 69 for the same period last year, according to the city's Building Department report for May.

However, construction valuation for the year through May totaled $10,550,087 compared to $7,792,433 for the year before, according to the report.

The month's highest-valued permit was taken out May 22 by Norm Coleman and Jack Paulson, who are planning a seven-apartment complex at 540 W. Campbell ave. The development is valued at $256,381.

A $124,623 permit was taken out May 1 by Arthur R. Burton, who plans an industrial development at 599 E. McGlincey lane. A commercial permit taken out by John Pursley, contractor for Campbell Plaza Development Corporation May 25 was valued at $117,600.

Thirty-five single family permits were taken out during the month. They include a seven-dwelling development by Griffin & Murren Construction at 605-639 Marathon dr., 18 homes by M.C. Johnson, Inc. at 638-672 Sunnyoaks ave., eight sites by Robert Schiro on Downing ave. and Tolworth drive and two projects by Dura-Style Homes on McCoy ave.

Luoto-Daley take top golf tourney spots

Phil Luoto came away with top honors at the 10th annual golf invitational tournament of the Campbell Chamber of commerce, with a low gross of 70. Barney Daley took first spot for low net with 59.

A total of 56 golfers (and non-golfers) took to the greens at Oak Ridge Golf Course last Thursday. Awards were presented at a dinner dance that evening at Los Gatos Lodge.

Don Kennedy won the dubious distinction, and prize, for high gross this year with a 167 and Doc Stander, who previously held that title was named most improved player with a 133, down from 167 last year.

Other winners included; low gross, Wally Perry (73), second and Bill McLain (75), third.

Low net second spot went to Earl Stevenson (63) and George Vierhus took third (64).

Blind Bogey winners, in first through eighth place, were: Phil Baker, Mark Rohan, Don Burr, Ed Keelan, Joe Doucet, Larry Read, Bill Lewis and Jim Narron.

Norma Olavarri was top winner in the women's blind bogey with 69 and Dorothy Vierhus was second with 79.

This was the first year the Chamber pitted local service clubs together on the fairways and Campbell Optimist Club came away with the perpetual trophy with a combined score of 290. Second place went to Campbell Kiwanis with 298 and third to Campbell Rotary with 305.

ELECTION workers at Coventry School have a local voter sign in during one of the slow periods in voting last Tuesday. Most polling places had a steady stream of voters all day as Proposition 13 brought a 65 per cent voter turnout on election day. Local totals followed the statewide results with almost a two to one margin for the Jarvis-Gann initiative, which is now receiving worldwide attention and which is expected to spark similar measures in other states.

Clinging vine becomes rambling rose, Cancer

June 17 through June 23

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Truth dished out this week, Ari. Experience may not be a bundle of laughs, but you do gain insight into personal problem. Dust off your dancing shoes, for one who paid the fiddler is about to call the tune.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Knotty problem highlighted. Simplistic solution will not work, Taurus, so sort possibilities and establish priorities. Explore. Question. Help comes from unexpected source. You're a survivor, Taurus, and don't you ever forget it.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Beautiful summer arrives catching you totally unprepared. Don't dally days away, Gem. Get off of your fantasy and get cracking! Keep your mind open, your wallet closed and reduce intake of joy juice.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): HAPPY BIRTHDAY, MOONBABY! You are kind, sensitive, imaginative, tenacious, shrewd and thrifty. You are also touchy, moody, unforgiving, untidy and unstable. But then, nobody's perfect. This year if you can be more tolerant with loved one, relationship will improve considerably. July, November significant months. Clinging vine turns into rambling rose.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Drama highlighted. Again. You often make a scene, Leo, just to seal it. This week, however, you must heed advice from one who sits in director's chair. You get the message — and then some!

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Challenge tests your mettle. If you find you have bitten off more than you can safely chew, then spit it out and start over — with smaller bites this time. Week grinds to a busy halt.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Because of your strong sense of justice, you try to see all sides of problem. Others nag you to hurry with decision. Take your time. Once you've made up your mind, follow through with action. Before week is over, little bird whispers secret into your ear. Try not to blush.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Your analytical mind can penetrate to root of problem facing you. Resentment and jealousy are the demons to keep under control, Scorp. Channel these high-powered emotions in positive fashion. Last day you collapse like an old pup tent.

SAGITTARIUS Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You find it difficult to accept a lifetime of grindingly dull work, Saj, and you are forever on the lookout for challenge. Ambition can find expression this week. New sphere opens. Be ready.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Keep travel plans flexible and money belt secured. Newcomer may make friendly overture. Be receptive — it could lead to romance. And you, Cap, are entitled to a summer romance just about now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Energy returns. Harness it well by making necessary appointments (and keeping them), returning calls and spoiling someone you've been neglecting — you know who. Week of challenge ends on key of G, for gourmet, garlic and getaway. Oh goody!

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Concerning relationship with loved one, Pisces, create illusion of freedom while maintaining control. You're so good at this. Week ends on note of anticipation.

Use permit recommended

New law eyed to control the 'dine and dash' trade

A MUNICIPAL CODE amendment that would require use permits for fast-food, drive-in and standard restaurants was unanimously recommended for approval Tuesday by the Campbell Planning Commission.

The measure, which would redefine fast-food, drive-in and standard restaurants for zoning purposes was sent on to the City Council by a 6-0 vote.

The Planning Commission expressed concern with the spread of fast-food eateries in Campbell, adding that the redefinitions are for the purpose of limiting fast-food establishments to certain zoning districts by issuing a use permit.

In another action, the commission recommended, also by a 6-0 vote, a Municipal Code amendment that would increase the number of parking spaces required for each residential development.

UNDER THE PLAN, four spaces per unit, one of which must be covered, would be required for single family homes and duplexes. Three spaces per unit, plus one additional space for each unit having three or more bedrooms, would be required for townhouses, condominiums and multiple family residences.

The current requirements are: two spaces per unit, one covered, for single family units and duplexes; and one-and-one-half space per dwelling unit for multiple family complexes, plus one space per employee not livng there.

In addition, the commission approved Phase II plans for the development of Winchester Skateboard Center, 2885 S. Winchester blvd.

Approval was given on the condition that operator Michael Martinez submit a revised landscape plan for the entire park prior to construction of Phase II, install landscaping within 30 days and post $5,000 cash bond in addition to the existing $5,000 bonds to insure that the landscaping will be done within 30 days.

The commission also:

Approved Don Williams' revised site plan for a seven-unit townhouse development at 705 and 725 W. Hacienda ave.

Okayed Alex Munoz's plan to expand an existing auto service center onto 3293 S. Winchester blvd.

APPROVED CONSTRUCTION plans of A.R. Woodsworth and John Chu for 22 townhomes at 190-200 Union ave.

Continued for two weeks a public hearing on Hans Peisker's plans to construct a warehouse and office facility at 116 Railway ave.

Continued for 30 days a public hearing on Carlos and Maria Perfecto's plans to construct two residential units at 109 S. Fourth st.

Continued for two weeks a public meeting on Alfred M. Wilson's plans to construct seven townhomes at 257 W. Rincon ave.

Recommended the City Council approve a zoning code amendment to allow conversion of residential structures to office and-or commercial structures.

Approved an application from the Campbell union school district for a tentative parcel map for the Campbell elementary school-West Valley College site.

Continued referrals from the City Council to consider revisions to the test of the proposed Circulation Element and regarding closure of schools in the community and loss of open space.

Setting the pace at the Campbell High School track last week was 7-year-old Nikki Collver with, from left, Dan Trinidad and instructor Judy Graham. Campbell Community Services is sponsoring a class in Jogging and Conditioning starting July 11 and continuing Tuesday evenings, from 6 to 7:30, through August 15. Fee for the course, taught by Graham, is $10 and reservations can be made by calling 378-8141 weekdays.

REVENGE LEADS TO ARREST

A man and a woman reportedly attempted to take the law into their own hands Friday night — and it landed them in jail on charges of attempted assault with a deadly weapon, attempted burglary and possession of amphetamines.

The pair was taken into custody Friday after reportedly trying to break into a Nido avenue apartment with lead pipes in an attempt to avenge a robbery they thought the victims had committed earlier in the day.

The victims told police they received a phone call around 8:30 p.m. accusing them of a burglary that day and informing them that they were on their way to reclaim their property and "take care of them."

When police arrived at approximately 9:21 they found one of the suspects trying to beat down the door with a 24-inch lead pipe. When confronted the suspects surrendered without a struggle.

During a routine search of the woman's purse, approximately 500 amphetamine tablets were reportedly found.

GIRL MOLESTED

A 14-year-old girl was reportedly molested while she slept on the floor of a duplex on the west side of town last week.

The intruder allegedly gained entry through an open window and accosted the girl who ordered him to leave, police said. He refused.

The girl and her 17-year-old sister, who was also present at the time, fled to the back of the duplex and called police, at which time the suspect fled.

The girl reportedly told police her assailant was a former boyfriend of her mother.

Police are seeking a 34-year-old man in connection with the incident.

ELECTRONIC GOODS SWIPED

A television, stereo, radio, movie camera and projector valued at $1,075 were taken from a Leigh avenue residence last week, according to police reports.

The thefts were discovered in the afternoon by a family member.

LOCK THROWN AT COACH

A Campbell high school coach escaped injury when a lock thrown into the coaches' office in the gymnasium shattered a plate glass window and hit him in the back, according to reports.

The coach was sitting with his back to the window when the incident occurred. Damage to the window was estimated at $70.

Three students were questioned in connection with the incident but none were held.

GIRLS CITED

An alleged joyriding and bottle-throwing episode resulted in the citing of two Campbell girls Friday night.

According to police reports, the two girls were spotted on San Tomas Aquino road by an officer, who attempted to pull them over. They refused to stop and the officer gave chase.

During the pursuit, the officer noticed that another vehicle was following him. It turned out that motorist had been hit by a bottle thrown from the girls' car, police said.

As the girls' car approached the intersection of Campbell and Hamilton avenues, according to reports, the driver lost control and careened into a center divider, breaking loose a large chunk of cement and uprooting a tree.

The driver, 16, was charged with hit and run, reckless driving, and resisting arrest. Her 15-year-old passenger was cited for resisting arrest. Both were released to their parents.

From disco dancing to doggy class in summer

Camps, classes and senior citizens activities are among the many offerings available through Campbell Community Services this summer.

Children 4-10 are eligible for the day camps offered at John D. Morgan Park in two-week sessions starting June 25.

Kiddie Kamp (ages 4-6) features trips to Happy Hollow, Vasona, Central Park and the Cupertino Ranch. The fee is $12.00.

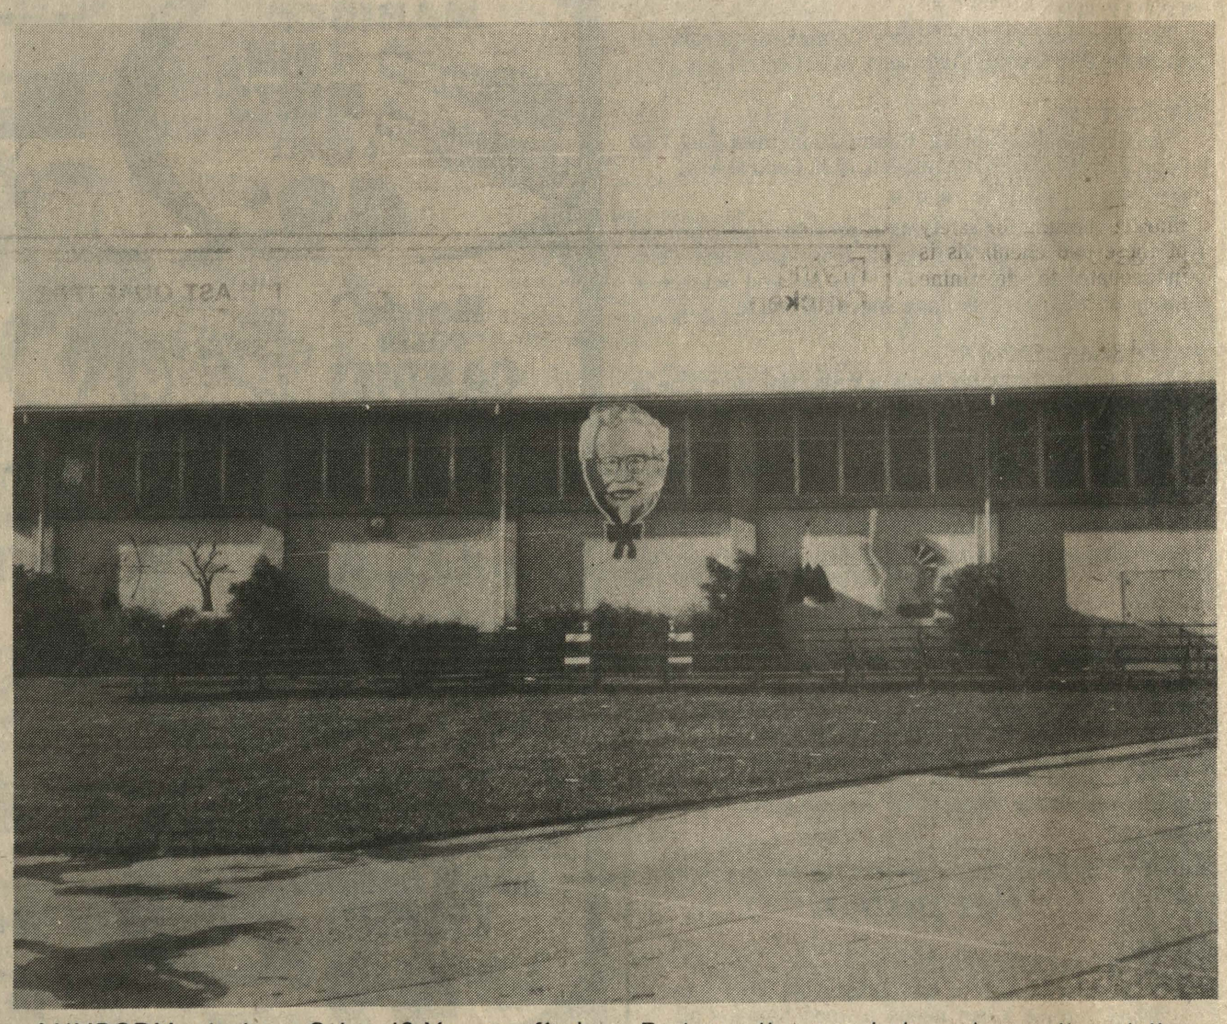
For children aged 7-10 there is Kamp for Kids, which also includes trips to Vasona, Uvas Meadows, Santa Cruz and Big Basin. Cost for that program is $15.00. In addition, swimming is offered once each week.

Both programs feature crafts, singing, hikes and games among other activities.

Classes ranging from bridge to disco dancing are also available. Among other courses offered are tennis, oil painting, jogging and conditioning, racquetball, dog obedience, ballroom dancing, cheerleading, modeling, baton twirling and magic.

For senior citizens, summer trips to Lake Tahoe, Monterey and Golden Gate Park are planned, along with a Vasona picnic and a bake sale.

Registration forms are available through Campbell Community Services, 75 N. Central Ave.



ANYBODY missing a Colonel? You can find him at Blackford high school, where this likeness of the Kentucky Fried Chicken founder was discovered Tuesday morning. Perhaps the prankster who purlioned the poultry profiteer wanted all to know that Blackford's graduating senior class is finger lickin' good.

Many Dads tire of the fancy restaurants that they must visit during the week in the course of their business ventures, so I know they'd enjoy visiting the Santa Clara GOOD EARTH (also in Cupertino & Palo Alto) — a perfect place to give him a change of pace. The food is homemade & wholesome — made fr. from scratch — & they recently were featured in Ch. 5 Evening Magazine. Dad can select from a giant Tostada, Shrimp Curry, Malaysian Cashew Shrimp & Beef, Beef Stroganoff, healthful salads, creative sandwiches & famous Omelets. A marvelous suggestion, ladies!

On my recent trip to Honolulu, I enjoyed great "Jazz," so I truly appreciate the 4 pc. group "TOUCH" performing at CLEMENTINE'S every Wed.-Sat. nights. They make exciting jazz sounds . . . both for listening & dancing. "CHAMBER POT" performs every Tues. night, in addition to serving lunch & dinner, CLEMENTINE'S also serves a marvelous Sun. Brunch from 10-2:45 p.m. — so here's a great suggestion for Father's Day & you can also take Dad to the Stfd. Shop. Ctr. to select his own gift? Just a suggestion!!!

If you & your lady friends wish to enjoy an inexpensive lunch some day here's a suggestion: The HWEI FU SHING on El Camino in PA serves a very nice buffet luncheon for only $2.50 per person . . . it incls. the choice of about 6 selections, i.e., Fried Rice, Chow Mein, Fried Chicken, Broccoli w/Beef, Tofu & various other selections incl. tea. Lunch is served 11:30-2 p.m. Mond-Sat. A great Sat. lunch spot. They also take reservations for lg. groups which they seat around big Lazy Susan tables.

I think SIRLOIN AND BREW UNLIMITED should get some kind of medal for their generosity in dining & beverages. For example, if you dine there on a Mon., Tues. or Wed. nite, here's what you get for as little as $5: Champagne (plus refills) to start your meal. Then all the salad you wish from their superb Gourmet Salad Bar. Choose from a big selection of steaks, plus Breast of Chicken or Red Snapper, a steaming hot potato w/dressing, all the bread & butter you wish. Add to all of this bottles of wine or pitchers of beer or sangria, plus refills & you are guaranteed not to go away hungry or thirsty. Try the Saratoga or Belmont locations.

Food additives: good, bad or indifferent?

By DOROTHY TERRILL

Editor's Note: Dorothy Terrill, a registered dietitian and instructor at De Anza College, holds a M.S. in Nutrition from UC, Berkeley. Queestions about nutrition are invited. Address all questions to: Dorothy Terrill, Nutrition Notes, P.O. Box 1032, Saratoga, 95070. Mrs. Terrill will answer questions as space allows.

PROPYLENE glycol, butyl hydroxytolulene, carrageenan. All chemical terms found on labels of commonly eaten foods. Food additive! Are they good, bad, or indifferent?

Propylene glycol is used to maintain a desired moisture content and texture in candy, baked goods, icings, shredded coconut, and moist pet foods. This chemical does not appear to be harmful in studies which have been done on rats and dogs.

The butyl hydroxytolulene, popularly referred to as BHT, is used to prevent oxidation and the resulting rancidity. It is commonly used in vegetable oils and any product which contains fat or oil. This chemical, along with BHA, is added to breakfast cereal packaging — the chemicals migrate into the cereal itself.

They are also used in chewing gum, convenience foods, potato flakes, enriched rice, potato chips, candy and many other products. These two chemicals are controversial and some consumer advocates want to see them taken off the market. Testing for safety of these two chemicals is inadequate to determine them "safe."

CARRAGEENAN is a thickening and stabilizing agent extracted from seaweed. It forms a gel wtih milk protein so it is useful in preventing cocoa particles from settling. It is widely used in "instant breakfast" type products and infant formulas. British infant formulas do not contain this additive so it seems likely we could do without it, too.

It's apparent that there is no one answer to food additives. Some of them such as the iodine added to salt and the vitamin D added to milk are definitely useful, beneficial additives which have helped in the prevention of certain diseases. However, many other additives have not received adequate testing. And many additives in current usage such as sodium nitrite have been linked to cancer in animal trials.

Food additives are tested by giving large doses of the additive to laboratory animals — usually rats or mice. Some of the methods have been criticized, particularly the large doses given. However, according to FDA officials, the larger dose compensates for the shorter life span of the animals.

At this point, food additives are tested singly. However, some authorities now feel that they should be tested in combinations, as they appear in "fabricated" foods. For example, propylene glycol may be harmless by itself but in combination with another additive, there may be adverse effects. This thought leaves one feeling even less secure about some of today's modern manufactured foods.

WEST VALLEY College decathlon star Wayne Gray gets airborne on a long jump as a teammate watches. Gray won the state community college decathlon title recently and harbors hopes of making the 1980 U.S. Olympic track team.

Ex-Buc a decathlete

Gray hoping to reach Moscow Olympics

By CHUCK HILDEBRAND

JIM THORPE, Bob Mathias, Rafer Johnson, Bill Tommey and Bruce Jenner.

All are former Olympic decathlon champions, and all were proclaimed as the greatest all-around athletes in the world.

And two years from now at Moscow, Campbell might just have its own addition to that glittering list — Wayne Gray.

The West Valley college sophomore and 1976 graduate of Campbell high school took what he hopes was the first step toward a possible 1980 Olympic berth by winning the state community college decathlon in Bakersfield earlier this month.

Earning one of the three U.S. berths on the 1980 Olympic team is a monumental task.

But Gray thinks he can do it.

"I THINK I have a very good chance," he says. "I need some work on my pole vaulting — I'll need to be able to clear 14-6 by '80 and I'm only up to 12-2 — but I'm going to concentrate on that this summer and I think I can get past 14 feet.

THE DECATHLON is a two day, 10-event combination of muscle, finesse, leaping ability, speed, endurance and guts. It is considered by many to be the ultimate test of the true all-around athlete.

But Gray says success in the decathlon is more mental than physical — which was what first attracted him to it.

"You have to be in complete control of your emotions for two days," observes Gray. "It's harder on the mind than the body — you can't let yourself become super-excited."

He also enjoys the contrasts of the event, which includes the shot put, discus, javelin, 100 meters, 400 meters, long jump, 110 meter hurdles, high jump, pole vault and 1,500 meters. "I'm not a 26-foot broad jumper or a 17-foot pole vaulter but I think I do a lot of things fairly well, and so I'm suited for the decathlon."

He tried the event for the first time last April at the suggestion of former WVC pole vaulter Steve Oravitz, and finished fourth in the NorCal championships in his very first outing.

This year, the Viking ace came in second in the NorCal affair but exploded in the state championships, rolling up 7,149 points, including a state record 3,905 in the first five events.

GRAY WILL have to get up into the 8,000-point range to become an Olympic threat. But his 7,149-point total represents a 1,020-point improvement in one year and he hopes to continue that pace.

It won't be easy. Starting last July, he began working out from 1:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. That constitutes 25 hours of work per week for almost a year — and the ordeal has only begun.

Strength, according to Gray, is the prime prerequisite for successful decathlon competition, and he lifts weights religiously.

"When you consider the relative importance of strength and speed, strength is far more important," said Gray. "If you are strong and can master the pole vault and hurdle everything else falls into place."

He considers the pole vault "definitely my weakest event," and also sees room for improvement in his 1,500 and discus marks. The 400, 100 and long jump are his specialties.

Gray isn't kidding himself about his chances of going to Moscow in 1980. "The Olympic trials will be hell on wheels, and there will be a lot of decathletes over 8,000 points. Whoever can place in the top three and make the team probably will win in Moscow."

When his athletic days are finished, Gray won't be helpless by any means. He had a 3.93 grade point average at Campbell, maintained a 3.0 GPA despite his training sacrifices at West Valley, and has been accepted at UC-Irvine for the fall quarter.

UC-Irvine, according to Gray, has the best biological science department in the UC system. That factor, coupled with the presence of track coach, Jim Toomey, brother of 1968 decathlon champion Bill, compelled him to choose UC-Irvine over UC-Santa Barbara and San Jose State, both of which displayed interest in him.

He intends to obtain a masters degree in entomology (the study of insects).

"My feet can't carry me forever. I'll have to use my brain sometime too," he said.

But in the meantime, his feet could carry him to the dream of any athlete — the Olympic Games — and nobody's betting against him. That list of all-time decathlon greats could be one name longer three years from now.

Moose Lodge on tear in Majors

FIRST HALF champion Moose Lodge got off to a terrible start in the second half of the Campbell Little League's Major division season.

But since losing its first two games of the second half, Moose Lodge has done a complete turnabout and is currently making a strong bid to overtake Willow Glen Optimist for the second half crown.

Moose Lodge ran its winning streak to seven consecutive games last week with victories over D's Automotive, Fontanetti's and Doetsch Buildings.

Moose scored 62 runs during the week, crushing D's 18-0, whipping Fontanetti's 17-4 and 17-1, and blanking Doetsch 10-0.

Bill Avery's first inning grand slam keyed Moose's 17-4 win over Fontanetti's. Avery, who was three for five on the day, wound up with seven runs-batted-in.

Hahn, who went four for five, tossed the win.

In Moose's second rout of Fontanetti's, Jerry Pennington and Stan Roam led the way with home runs while Hahn drove in five teammates.

ROAM CAPPED Moose's week with a three-hit shut-out of Doetsch.

Moose's recent surge pulled the first half champs to within a game of second half leader Willow Glen.

Willow Glen had its seven game win streak snapped by Fontanetti's last Sunday when it lost 5-4 on Mike Mattingly's lead-off homer in the bottom of the ninth.

George Tsamis won in the relief while Mike Medeffesser sparked the winner's offense with three hits.

Prior to losing to Fontanetti's, Willow Glen had beaten Doetsch Building 3-2 and 10-2.

Larry Miranda tossed the first win and Brien Bertolin hurled the second. Tony Hemphill blasted his eighth home run of the season, tops in the league, in the second game against Doetsch.

In other action, Campbell Plaza beat Robins 6-2 in eight innings. Plaza's Andy Buchanan tossed a no-hitter through six innings but a pair of unearned runs deprived him of the victory. Jim Balbas won in relief.

Robert Artery slammed a pair of home runs last week, one in D's 5-3 win over Breuners and the other in an 8-6 loss to Breuners.

Red hot fight for 1st in Pony league

By CHUCK HILDEBRAND

The torrid fight for the Campbell Moreland Pony League regular-season title got no less hectic in action last week.

The Campbell Optimist Mets and the Magoo's Pizza Pirates emerged as co-occupants of first place, with the Fontanetti's Yankees just a half-game back.

In the battle for the fourth and final play-off spot, the Fiorillo's Pizza Giants and the American Realty Cardinals were deadlocked.

The Pirates, now winners of seven of their last eight games, clubbed the Gagliardi Brother Dodgers 12-2 and 14-0 over the weekend while the Mets split with the Cardinals, prevailing 6-5 in 10 innings Saturday but falling 5-4 Sunday.

In other weekend action, the Cubs got a perfect game from John Murphy (see separate story) to top the Wheelaway Cycle Center A's 6-0 after losing 6-3 to the same team the day before, and the Straw Hat Pizza Tigers earned a split with the Giants, winning 6-2 on Sunday after a 13-1 drubbing Saturday.

Bob Straight's 10th inning home run triggered a three run Met rally against the Cardinals Saturday, but the Mets had to hang on for dear life as the Cardinals countered with two of their own and advanced the tying run to third.

But Straight, who hurled the last three frames in relief of Brad Ceynowa, fanned the final batter to nail down the victory.

TOM GRICIUS, who toiled on the mound during the first seven frames, clubbed a two run homer in the first and Rich Vanegas and Curt Hollars each had two hits for the losers.

On Sunday, Hollars, used sparingly throughout the season on the mound, spaced eight hits to get the Cardinals back in the thick of the play-off race. Tim Bottomley whacked two doubles, went three for three and totaled four RBI's in his behalf. Eric Crawford homered for the Mets.

The Pirates rolled over the last place Dodgers with ease, thumping 23 hits in the two games.

Joray Marrujo slashed a grand slam and Brett Blackwell and Doug Kercher notched two hits Saturday and that same trio divided the mound chores, allowing just one hit.

Sunday's game was called after five innings as Glenn Davis' three hits led the Pirates' assault.

The red hot A's were cooled off somewhat by Murphy's perfect game after coming from behind for their sixth triumph in seven outings the previous day.

Matt Ramos, brought on after the A's starter surrendered three runs in the first, blanked the Cubs on two hits and fanned six before giving way to Paul Sargis in the seventh.

His teammates chipped away at the Cubs' lead and finally chalked up three markers in the sixth for the margin of victory. Ken Pressler's third hit of the game, a double, drove in one run and Don Bernard also had an RBI double.

THE GIANTS broke open a close game against the Tigers Saturday with a nine run outburst in the fifth, aided by five Tigers' errors.

Ed Rodriguez stifled the Tigers on five hits and Rodriguez, Ted Ornduff and Craig Trinidad all managed two hits.

However, the Tigers rebounded behind the two-hit mound work of Bill Roberts and Curt Cabaniss the next day. Roberts lofted a two run, opposite field home run, his second such blow of the season, and had two other hits.

In weekday action, the Pirates edged the Cubs 1-0 Monday; the Yankees turned back the Tigers 5-2 Tuesday; the Mets outlasted the Dodgers 1-0 in 10 innings Wednesday and the A's disposed of the Cardinals 4-3 Thursday.

The Pirates' Blackwell outdueled the Cubs' Brett Peyton with a five-hitter to earn the win Monday. John Lawson scored the game's only run in the fourth on a throwing error by the catcher.

Rich Alvarez permitted only one hit and fanned 16 and Jeff Nelson accounted for two RBI's in the Yankees' success Tuesday.

On Wednesday, Straight and Ceynowa allowed four hits in 10 innings and Straight tripled and then stole home in the tenth to pull it out for the Mets.

Eric Beyer and Steve Clinton of the Dodgers blanked the Mets until the tenth, Beyer winging a six-hitter over the first seven stanzas.

The A's got a three run double from Bernard to climax a four run, fifth inning charge Thursday. Sargis scattered six hits for the mound win.

In off-the-field affairs, the league announced plans to field two all-star teams instead of the usual one. Player agent P. H. Kephart, who spearheaded the drive for the second all-star team, said the presence of an exceptional amount of talent in the league and the minimal expense compared to the possible benefits were the prime considerations.

After 2 years, Murphy gets his perfect game

By CHUCK HILDEBRAND

IT WAS TWO years ago that John Murphy, then a member of the Campbell Little League all-star team that went on to win the United States championship, was denied a perfect game when he nicked the last batter on the wrist in a 14-0 rout of Rock Springs, Wy.

On Sunday, two years later, that brush with perfection became reality.

Murphy, now playing for the Jacky Boy Pizza Cubs of the Campbell Moreland Pony League, retired all 21 Wheelaway Cycle Center A's he faced in a 6-0 Cubs victory.

The muscular righthander struck out nine and allowed only five A's to hit the ball out of the infield.

He got two scares in the bottom of the seventh facing the meat of the A's batting order. Paul Sargis led off with a high fly to left that Dennis Gilligan briefly misjudged, but recovered quickly to make the catch.

After Murphy got Jim Walsh on a grounder to third baseman John Aimonetti, Mike Walsh slammed a rocket to left-center that first appeared out of reach. But center fielder Mario Fontano got a good jump and made the grab to send Murphy and his teammates into ecstasy.

IN ALL, Fontano handled four chances, two of the difficult variety, to preserve the gem.

Murphy didn't have to worry about offensive support. Aimonetti gave him more than he needed with a mammoth three run homer in the first inning. The Cubs' third baseman added a solo shot in the sixth to give him four RBI's for the day.

Rich Hegerty went three for four at the plate and also had the honor of catching Murphy's perfecto.

Cubs manager Rich Barry, a former player in the Brooklyn Dodgers' farm system, said he'd only seen two perfect games in his 25 years in baseball — Murphy's and Don Larsen's in the 1956 World Series.

"There are guys in this league who can get by just with smoke," Barry said. "But John moved the ball around, changed speeds — pitched a very intelligent game. That's the best display of pitching I've seen in I don't know how long."

So John Murphy will never again have to think about the perfect game he almost pitched — because now he can think about the perfect game he did pitch.

Donettes continue second half surge

By ANNE BRENNAN
WEST VALLEY

There is always room for improvement, and the Donut Shop Donettes have sure proved that in the second half of play in the West Valley Bobby Sox major division.

With a first half record of 6-5, nobody in the league expected the Donettes to pose a threat in the second half. But the surprise Donettes have turned things around and currently own a 5-0 record and hold the major division lead.

The Donettes wins for last week started when Julia Ranhiem hurled a no-hitter taking her team to a 15-1 victory over the R.C. Mareno Tin-Benders. Donette Kim Snyder went five-for-five in that game.

Ranheim and Snyder then combined to pitch a four-hitter and clinch a 9-5 win over the Santa Clara Valley Distributing Co. Chargers.

Sue Shaw's four-bagger gave the Leigh Ave. Chevron Sparkplugs an early 6-0 lead over the Instep Orioles. The Orioles rallied in the bottom of the seventh, scoring five runs, but failed to get the winning run across and lost 6-5. The loss is the Oriole's second of the season.

Karen McCauley tossed a three-hitter to put the Orioles back on the winning track, beating the Jerry's Paper Salvage Rippers 11-1.

Carrie Vaianisi belted a three run homer in the fifth inning when the score was 3-1 to start the Orioles' momentum.

Sue Casey and Chris Athens stroked back-to-back home runs to help the Lincoln Ave. Chevron Hustlers to a 28-8 victory over the Sparkplugs.

In minor action winning pitcher Leslie Calhoun not only fanned 10 batters, but also smashed a grand slam in the bottom of the sixth inning to put the game into an 8-8 deadlock and Carrie Neargarden drove in the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning to take the Rosicrucian Press — Rosie's Rippers to a 9-8 victory over the P & L Electric Shockers.

In their third extra inning, one run game Kevin's 7-11 Lucky Numbers defeated The Recaps 13-12.

Shiela Brewer went five-for-five and Patricia Casey was four-for-five. Hilary Ragan, Sharon Ajlouni and Stephanie Divittorio all belted doubles for the Numbers.

Cindy Richmond ripped a pair of doubles and a triple for the Recaps.

The Lucky Numbers clinched another close decision when they edged Gunther's Delicatessen-Gunther's gang 6-5.

Sue Brewer whacked a double in the top of the seventh inning to drive in the winning run.

For Guenther's Gang, Sheryl Brown rapped a homer.

The Home Savings and Loan Big Bucks beat the Shockers 10-6 on the strength of Donna McCauley's triple, Cristi Constantino's double and Misty Freeman's single.

CAMPBELL

Carrie McRay retired two base runners attempting to steal second base to help the Royals to an 8-6 victory over the Orioles in Campbell Bobby Sox minor division action.

Meg Calton stroked a pair of triples for the Royals.

In other action, the Twins outscored the Indians 17-13 and the Angels whipped the White Sox 27-11.

The Tigers defeated the Orioles 13-6 and the Angels blitzed the Indians 18-5. The White Sox edged the Twins 21-20.

In major action, the Braves whipped the Phillies 12-4 and the Pirates beat the Mets 8-2. The Dodgers got by the Padres 2-1 and the Giants outlasted the Astros 16-12. The Cubs demolished the Reds 20-0 and the Mets defeated the Giants 24-17.

The Dodgers whipped the Astros 13-2, the Cubs trounced the Phillies 8-1 and the Braves whipped the Pirates 17-3.

MORELAND

The Mets remained undefeated in the Moreland Bobby Sox minor division with a pair of 15-2 victories over the Tigers and the Cubs.

The Tigers bounced back from defeat to clinch their first victory of the second half by beating the royals 7-4.

The Cubs and the Pirates played through seven and a half innings but the game still ended in a 13-13 deadlock. The game was finally called because of darkness.

In major action, the White Sox defeated the Yankees 13-6, the Phillies beat the Angels 5-2 and the Dodgers whipped the Giants 20-7.

The Angels outlasted the Ynkees 10-5 and the White Sox blitzed the Giants 16-1.

After eight innings of play, the Phillies clinched the victory 5-4 over the Red Sox.

Giants cut into Cubs' loop lead

THE CUBS faltered a bit last week in the Major division race of the Moreland Little League. And the second place Giants were quick to take advantage.

The Giants cut a game and a half off the Cubs' league lead, pulling to within two games of the front runners, by posting a pair of wins while the Cubbies were losing two out of three.

Eric Yamasaki sparked the Giant surge by tossing a two-hitter in a 12-4 win over the Dodgers and then pounding a pair of home runs, including a grand slam, in an 11-3 triumph over the Reds.

The Cubs, meanwhile, dropped a 6-3 decision to the Reds and a 3-2 tilt to the Senators before beating the Reds 10-0 behind the splendid pitching of Eugene Chavez.

Chavez took a perfect game into the sixth inning against the Reds, retiring the first 15 batters he faced, before settling for a one-hitter. He struck out 13.

In the only other Major division contest, the Dodgers knocked off the Senators 6-2.

The Expos still lead the Minor division while the Seals are in front in the Farm league.

AN OPEN LETTER

DEAR MOVIE-GOERS:

REMEMBER THAT FAMOUS LINE FROM "NETWORK?"

Of course you do. Well, we're mad as hell, too, and we're not going to take it anymore. Who are we, you ask. We're local friends and neighbors in the Projectionists' Union fighting for principles and fair play with two giants of the motion-picture business: United Artists Theatres and Syufy (Century) Theatres.

We'd like to tell you our side of the story in the current work dispute with UA and Syufy:

WE'RE MAD AS HELL because the business has become dominated by a few giant companies.

WE'RE MAD AS HELL because the building of more and more multiple-theater complexes has led to the abuse of automation techniques.

WE'RE MAD AS HELL because we didn't fight automation, and management took advantage of our cooperative attitude.

WE'RE MAD AS HELL because ever-increasing automation demands require some of our members to operate six projectors simultaneously.

WE'RE MAD AS HELL because we can't do a proper professional job and you are being short-changed with smeared, scratched and out-of-focus film presentations, combined with inferior sound.

WE'RE MAD AS HELL because UA and Syufy have cancelled our collective bargaining agreements and have threatened to terminate our services for supporting the strike issues of our fellow Projectionists in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Orange County and Las Vegas.

WE'RE MAD AS HELL because we believe we have the right to show support and solidarity with our fellow Projectionists; to demonstrate that their fight is our fight.

WE'RE MAD AS HELL because we don't like strikes and don't like giving up our paychecks, but we do believe in our principles and in fair play.

We ask that you support our position by not patronizing the following Syufy and UA Theatres as long as our picket lines remain.
